All Aboard for the Chattanooga Paper Doll Convention June 17-21, 2015

You don't have to board that famous old Choo Choo to get to Chattanooga, Tennessee, for next year's Paper Doll Convention. You can drive or you can fly into the nice little airport (it's not a giant "hub" so it's easy) and take a short taxi ride to the Embassy Suites Hotel where the fun will begin on Wednesday, June 17, 2015.

The hotel is sensational! Yes, it's the Embassy Suites chain which means you get that great hot breakfast and can enjoy the open bar "Manager's Happy Hour" every evening. But it sure doesn't look like any Embassy Suites you've ever seen. It is a brand new design (just built last year) and looks like a 5-star luxury hotel with stunning space and stylish décor. There's a spectacular, soaring lobby, an elegant get-together lounge, indoor pool, an outdoor terrace lounge and roomy suites (perfect for sharing with friends). The hotel location is right across the street from a big shopping mall with 15 (yes, 15!) casual dining options for lunching as you please. All the evening meals (Thurs/Fri/Saturday) will be included in your convention registration fee. The buffet banquet dinners will be especially delicious, being catered by the well-known Ruth's Chris Steak House, housed in the hotel.

Just a 20 minute ride away from the hotel is the historic city of Chattanooga where there is a lot to see and do. The beautiful Tennessee River is overlooked by a wonderfully designed recreation area that includes an art museum, a fantastic aquarium and an arts district with interesting galleries and little restaurants.

An unusual museum houses one eccentric woman's amazing collection of glass, and there will be an organized tour of that attraction on Wednesday before the convention officially kicks off.

The area all around Chattanooga is rich with scenic beauty, historic sites from the Civil War and attractions like the Dollywood theme park. There are a couple of river tours—an old-fashioned paddlewheel or a speedy cruiser, the Chattanooga Zoo, the Chattanooga Choo Choo Museum and the Incline Railway offering spectacular views of the region.

Plans for the 2015 "Songs of the South" Paper Doll Convention (organized by David Wolfe, Jenny Taliadoros and enthusiastic committee members) are already well underway. Of course, there will be souvenirs by many of your favorite artists, workshops, presentations, displays and exhibits plus the ever-popular competition. One day will be devoted to sales. And every day will be filled with friends and fun.

We hope you'll join us for a great time in Chattanooga, TN, June 17-21 2015!

Check it out... and Check-in to the Embassy Suites Chattanooga!

The Grand Lobby

Catch up with old friends (and make new ones!) and share paper doll finds in one of the deluxe lounge areas.

Enjoy an early morning walk around the landscaped water feature.

Have a late gathering 'round a fire pit on the outdoor terrace.

The Embassy Suites Hotel in Chattanooga, Tennessee, will be the especially exciting setting for the 2015 National Paper Doll Convention. A new, deluxe décor that begins at the entrance... a soaring multi-story lobby adjacent to a luxurious lounge area... a bar/breakfast area with comfortable seating... a series of ballrooms and boardrooms that will become the spaces for presentations, workshops, competition, sales room and raffle as well as banquet space for delicious evening meals prepared by the in-house Ruth's Chris Steak House.

The special $129 convention rate for suites (that sleep several if you are sharing) includes hot, made-to-order breakfast and nightly open bar get-together. The upscale, 2-room suites include a private bedroom (king or 2-queens), separate living room with sofa bed, kitchenette, free Wi-Fi and access to indoor pool and gym. Make your hotel reservation and start the countdown to the 2015 Paper Doll Convention! To make a hotel reservation, contact Jennifer Herron, Group Rooms Coordinator at 423-602-7556.
